

The Phillips Formula - A New Drake Equation: ALONE IN A UNIVERSE TEEMING WITH LIFE

H. R. Phillips, aka Rick Phillips, has been an important voice in the world of UFOlogy blogging since 2007 with his blog UFO Disclosure Countdown Clock. Phillips brings the skills he developed as a marketing analyst and marketing wordsmith to the world of UFOlogy and Esoteric thought in his line of Kindle books on Amazon. This book is no exception as Phillips expands upon one of his most original blogging posts ever (the original blogpost is included at the end of this expanded version) his insights into what he calls `A New Drake Equation; and reveals two formulas that employ the latest science information to produce real estimates for how many `intelligent human level species might exist within our own Milky Way Galaxy. Phillips original post calculated the new `Phillips Formula to produce the estimate of about 200 `Radio Level civilizations concurrently in the Milky Way. And while the range for that logic, which is fully outlined in this E-Book, indicates a range of about 70-400 civilizations - while writing up the full expression of the original blogpost a new idea occurred to Phillips and that gave yet another fun avenue (formula two) to explore in this discovery of the Phillips Formula. That new line of logic suggests far fewer concurrent intelligent humanlike beings on Earthlike planets in the Milky Way but when extrapolated to the entire visible universe still indicates a universe teeming with vibrant life with all levels of development. Finally in this short E-Book mind excursion Phillips brings his reasoned speculation as to what it might mean, here and now on Earth, that Earthlings live in a probable visible universe teeming with life intelligent life yet we cant see any sign of it. What that might imply about the means for interstellar and inter-galaxy travel and communication is also part of this books discussion. Lastly all books by H.R.
