

Growing Strong

This humorous childrens book was inspired by Matt Van Staverns ever-growing three young nephews. He has written two other childrens books sharing a little humor about himself and what he goes through. He wrote this third book so a young person could read it easily and understand basic principles on how to face life. He believes that if you train children in the way they should go, they will follow the best paths, especially if someone they respect is setting that example.
