

Einstein (Life & Times)

Albert Einstein re-wrote the textbooks of science in 1905: physics since has been little more than a series of footnotes to the theories of a 26-year-old patent-office clerk. Einsteins science and emotional life come together in this vivid portrait of a rebellious and contradictory figure, a pacifist whose legendary equation $E=mc^2$ squared opened scientists eyes to the terrible power within every atom. To punish me for my contempt for authority, he lamented, Fate has made me an authority myself
