

Toe Boys Growing up

My adversities and tragedies started at the age of three, when I witnessed my sister being shot. I watched her die in my mothers arms. I was infected with typhoid at age five and became deaf, blind, lame and was given two weeks to live. I learned early in life that the Death Angel isnt biased or prejudice, and when death knocks at your door, you must answer. Divine Providence was evidence in my life when my deaf ear and blind eye were opened, my legs began to gain strength, and the Death Angel passed me over. The Toe is where true friends are made, and the bond of brotherly love is sealed forever. Racism and poverty, sickness and affliction can be overcome with faith and love. We reached for the stars and dared to go beyond the cotton fields, and we learned that weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.
