

Polar Bears (Natures Children)

Weighing up to 1,500 pounds, polar bears are the largest carnivores on Earth. These massive bears stalk their icy habitats in search of seals and other tasty prey. Readers will discover just how polar bears survive in their frigid homes, how they raise their cubs, and why they are such good swimmers. They will also learn why polar bears are in danger of dying in out and what we can do to help save them.
