

READ THIS STORY AT YOUR OWN RISK

Do you truly believe that you are reading this by accident? Don't be so naive. Think carefully about what led you to this page. Think about the little decisions you made. Maybe they weren't really your decisions at all. This story will let you know how we developed the means to bring you here. But that's only the beginning of the story. At this time, we can only tell you that the information you learn here may make you somewhat uncomfortable. You may no longer see your life in the same way. Some things may be better left unknown. It is for this reason that we suggest that you read this story at your own risk.
